1. The authorized Dealer shall abide by the provisions of the Federal Decree by Law No. (3) of 2003 regarding the Organization of the Telecommunications Sector, its Executive Order and the amending laws thereof, as well as its Regulatory Framework. The authorized Dealer shall maintain the certification requirements as outlined in the Type Approval Regime and followed by the TRA.

2. Equipment shall comply with all specifications (specific standards, spectrum requirements, software versions, etc.) as prescribed by the TRA.

3. The authorized Dealer shall apply for certificate renewal a month prior to its expiry or by 15 days of expiry. In the event of exceeding the specified term, the authorization will be temporarily suspended, and an extra charge of AED 100 will be incurred monthly for renewing suspended authorizations, up to a maximum of 6 months, after which the certificate shall be deemed invalid and non-renewable.

4. The authorized Dealer shall maintain an up-to-date listing of authorized equipment, including station locations, equipment manufacturers, models, serial numbers, frequencies, output power, date of purchase, and date of equipment disposal. Upon request, this list shall be submitted to the TRA in a format specified by the TRA.

5. The type approval certificate cannot be transferred or assigned to a third party.

6. The authorized Dealer shall use the certification mark on certified products only. The certification number shall be marked on all certified products before placing them on the market. The authorized Dealer shall follow TRA rules and regulations for the use of the certification mark as per TRA Type Approval Regime.

7. The authorized Dealer shall immediately discontinue the use of the certification mark upon suspension or withdrawal of the product certification.

8. Copies of certification documents shall only be provided in full.

9. The TRA reserves the right to inspect, examine or test Equipment. No person or entity shall deny representatives or officers of the TRA from carrying out such inspection. The authorized Dealer shall make all necessary arrangements to facilitate the performance of such tasks.

10. The authorized Dealer shall make a list of all received complaints as well as investigation complaints.

11. The authorized Dealer shall provide samples of registered equipment for testing as instructed by the TRA and during the validity period of the certificate.

12. During the lifetime of the certificate or at renewal, the TRA reserves the right to make any modifications or changes to the certificate including these terms and conditions.

13. No authorized Dealer shall:

   a. Violate any copyright or intellectual property rights, which may exist in the content of the matters, sent or received.
   b. Send false distress signals or any misleading messages.
   c. Use Equipment for purposes other than those established in the certificate.

14. This certificate is issued for the specific model, type, software and hardware versions of the Equipment submitted for approval.

15. The TRA may make variations, amend or abolish the granted approvals at any time and for any reasons, as it deems necessary.

16. In the event that any of the authorized or concerned persons in type approval breaches the terms and limitations upon which authorizations are granted, the TRA may do any of the following:

   a. Invoke a financial fine against the violator.
   b. Revoke the issued certificate.

17. Without prejudice to any applicable penalties in the UAE, and in the case where any person who manufactures, uses, offers for sale or supplies Telecommunication Equipment which has not been approved by the TRA, or in case the Authorized or concerned persons violate the TRA-issued technical specifications and standards relevant to the Telecommunications Equipment, the TRA may take any of the following actions:

   a. Serve a warning to the violator to rectify the violating Telecommunications Equipment so as to be compatible with applicable and adopted specifications.
   b. Serve a warning to the violator or to destroy or handover all violating or non-conforming Telecommunications Equipment.
   c. The TRA may withdraw non-compliant Telecommunications Equipment, in cooperation with customs authorities.

18. In the event of a conflict between the TRA and the authorized Dealer, the TRA shall have final say in resolving disputes.

19. The Dealer, and by requesting an authorization from the TRA, must commit to the following:

   a. Accept responsibility for any harm, injury or loss attributed to examining, storing or using Equipment.
   b. Accept responsibility to discontinue importation and sale, and replace all equipment already on the market, in case of defects in the equipment resulting in unacceptable performance.

The Authorized Dealer shall accept responsibility to discontinue importation and sale, and replace all equipment already on the market in the event of exceeding the specified term, the authorization will be temporarily suspended, and an extra charge of AED 100 will be incurred monthly for renewing suspended authorizations, up to a maximum of 6 months, after which the certificate shall be deemed invalid and non-renewable.
c. Inform the TRA of any desired modifications to the authorized Equipment before importing to obtain TRA approval.
d. Conform to any additional instructions issued by the TRA until the procedure and standard specifications associated with the new Type Approval Regime are in effect.

20. The TRA shall not disclose to any third party any confidential and proprietary information provided by the authorized Dealer to Type Approval. This obligation shall not apply to information, which is already available to the public or acquired from other sources without confidentiality restrictions. The TRA agrees that such obligation to maintain confidentiality shall survive until the termination of the certification process.

21. The TRA will not, under any circumstances, be liable to the client or dealer for any indirect, special or consequential damages, or any third party claims that may arise as a result of services rendered in the Certification Agreement.

22. The TRA will reimburse the authorized Dealer for any direct damages in connection with its certification procedure according to an irreversible court order.

23. The TRA shall address any complaints or appeals received from the authorized Dealer impartially and communicate the findings to them, including any corrective actions implemented.

24. The Dealer shall clearly and legibly put the TRA Declaration of Conformity Card under the display stand of Telecommunications Equipment in retail stores. The Dealer shall coordinate with Points of Sale in placing the Conformity Card.

25. The dealer and vendor shall ensure that all Radio Communication Equipment are compliant with a usage license issued by TRA’s spectrum department.
